

YOUR VOICE LEADS THE WAY.

Supported by The American Cancer Society

Black women deserve a future where their health needs are truly understood and supported. When you join the VOICES of Black Women study, your perspective will help research better reflect the real experiences of Black women, including yours.

WHO

- Black women ages 20–60
- Never diagnosed with cancer (except basal or squamous skin cancer)
- Living in the US

HOW IT WORKS

Share your unique health perspectives with us. The initial survey takes about one hour, with two short follow-ups per year.

The American Cancer Society is here to support you in sharing your truth so research can better support you!
